

Disclaimer

This organization, SMART Start Business, does not provide legal or financial or tax or accounting or business advice or any other type of advice to its clients. This organization provide information, training, support and mentoring. If a client wishes or needs to receive a legal or financial or tax or accounting or business advice or any other type of professional advice they should seek appropriate advisor. This organization takes no responsibility for the failure of any business which has been sat up with its support or services or for any loss or bankruptcy of the client or any other person (third party) who provided any support to the client, being financial, material or other type of support, caused by the business which has been sat up with the support and services of the organization. This organization is not responsible for any loss or damages or actions whatsoever created or caused or performed by any of its clients outside the work that the organization provides whether during or after the services duration.